

The Community Source Guide to EDUCAUSE 2004

Presented by

The Sakai Project

and

The Open Source
Portfolio Initiative

The Sakai Project and the Open Source Portfolio Initiative encourage community participation.

SEPP: The Sakai Educational Partners' Program (SEPP) was launched in March 2003 to focus on the needs of educational institutions. Partners get early access to Sakai documents, bi-annual conference participation, and some pre-release software. SEPP conferences include developer training, strategy sessions, and community planning. The SEPP 2004 Winter Conference is in New Orleans, LA Dec. 8-10 at the W New Orleans Hotel. SEPP is jointly funded by the participating institutions and the Hewlett Foundation.
